

Self-Registered Guest Access:

Requires users need to be authenticated before providing the network access. Guest Accounts are created by the visitors by providing information such as email or phone number. You may allow them the network access without any approval of the sponsor. The guest himself is creating the guest account in the self-registered guest portal. Self-Registered Guest Access is recommended when you want the guests to register themselves without having any employee approval to get the network access.

